

1

I thought you were like the moon...

So far, so untouchable.

2

I kept little things close to my heart...
Songs, movies, random talks, dreams...

3

Every time I saw you,
I felt something different inside.

"On a rainy night,
I'll take you with me."

Nice song :)

10:48 PM

I wasn't random.
I planned it for almost a month.
That day, I finally sent it.
Your reply made me smile...
and I sent more.

What if she feels uncomfortable?

Will I be accepted?

What if she says no?

What if it ruins our friendship?

We have to be in the same class for 2 more years.

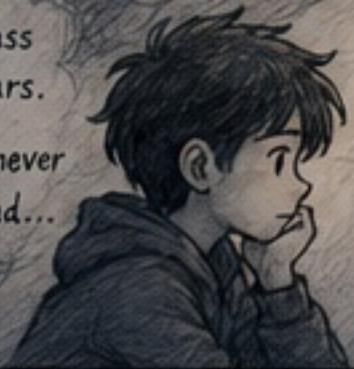

I promised I'll never make her feel bad...

I overthink.

I doubt myself.

I stay silent.

Because I was afraid of losing everything.

I didn't know...

The moon I thought was so far...

Was actually so close.

I could have
just reached out...
Maybe I could have held it.

A person with dark, spiky hair and a dark hoodie is shown from the back, looking out over a city skyline at dusk. The sky is a mix of orange, yellow, and blue, with some clouds. The city buildings are dark, with some lights visible in the windows.

But I didn't.

And now...

All I have is regret.

The biggest miss
I ever made.

I just can't accept it.

You were never too far...

I just never had the courage to try.

And that's what hurts the most.
